LITTLE ROCK, ARKANSAS

THE CHRONICLE

TEMPLE

OCTOBER 2020/VOLUME 20 - ISSUE 9

THE RABBI SPEAKS

RABBI BARRY BLOCK

Dear Friends:

Voting is a mitzvah. We learn in Deuteronomy that we should pay attention to leadership at every level: “chiefs of thousands, chiefs of hundreds, chiefs of fifties, and chiefs of ten, and officials for your tribes” (Deuteronomy 1:15).

While much focus has been at the very top of the November ballot, and for good reason, those of us who live in Little Rock School District would do well to pay particular attention also to an election near the bottom: For the first time in many years, we have the opportunity to elect a School Board! In between, Central Arkansas is faced with a competitive race for U.S. Congress, and many of our members live in Arkansas Senate and General Assembly districts that are up for grabs. Each of these elections will shape the future of our community.

Our congregation’s Board of Trustees has taken the exceptional step of endorsing the Union for Reform Judaism’s 2020 Resolution on Free and Fair Elections, which you may find here: <https://urj.org/what-we-believe/resolutions/urj-resolution-free-and-accessible-elections>. Of greatest importance, our Board authorized Amanda Ferguson and me to encourage 100% voter turnout from the eligible voters who are members of Congregation B’nai Israel!

To that end, I encourage each and every adult member of our congregation to:

- Register to vote! If you are not yet registered, the deadline to do so is October 5.

Rabbi Block to Hold Distinguished Lectureship in Rochester, New York

Rabbi Peter Stein, Senior Rabbi of Temple B'rith Kodesh in Rochester, New York, has invited Rabbi Block to serve as the congregation's Bernstein Scholar, October 16-17. The lectureship honors the memory of Rabbi Philip S. Bernstein, who was the spiritual leader of Temple B'rith Kodesh from 1927 to 1973. As editor of The Mussar Torah Commentary, Rabbi Block is to speak about the impact of Mussar during Shabbat Eve worship and to conduct Mussar-based Torah study on Shabbat morning.

Temple B'rith Kodesh has honored Rabbi Block on this occasion with a gift to our Rabbi's Discretionary Fund, which enables our congregation to be served by Rabbi Nikki DeBlosi on the Shabbat when Rabbi Block will be unavailable. Both Rabbi Block's visit to Rochester and Rabbi DeBlosi's to Little Rock will be via Zoom.

Rabbi Nikki DeBlosi

Live, from New York:

Rabbi Nikki DeBlosi Shabbat Services, Friday, October 16 Torah Study, October 17

Named in 2015 by the Forward as "one of America's Most Inspiring Rabbis," Rabbi DeBlosi is a freelance speaker, teacher, and spiritual counselor. Ordained at Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion in 2013, she combines a high-level academic background with an approachable presence. Her interests include queer and feminist theory, sexuality and relationships, pastoral care, liturgy, and expanding the lifecycle ritual. A convert herself, Rabbi DeBlosi helps folks find community and belonging. She and Rabbi Block serve together on the CCAR Board of Trustees.

Rabbi DeBlosi's visit via Zoom is made possible by a grant from Rabbi Block's Discretionary Fund

Morning Service for Shabbat and Atzeret-Simchat Torah to Include Yizkor

Shabbat and festival services for the last day of our fall Holy Day cycle, Atzeret-Simchat Torah morning, are scheduled for Saturday, October 10, at 11am, via Zoom. Rabbi Block plans to officiate from the Chapel, with music led by David Bauman from his home. Yizkor – Memorial prayers will be offered during this service, and Rabbi Block plans to read the names of members and relatives of members who have died since last Atzeret-Simchat Torah.

- Make a plan to vote! Now is the time to decide whether you plan to vote by mail or in person, early or on Election Day. Whatever your plan, make sure you have a backup and a plan for how you're going to carry out your plan. (For that reason, planning to vote on Election Day may be best as a backup plan.)
- If you wish to vote by mail, be aware that request to receive a ballot must be received by the Pulaski County Clerk no later than October 27. However, please do not wait until the last minute. Submitting a request for a mail-in ballot as late as October 27 will give the Clerk's office little time to send you a ballot and would give you little time to return it in time for it to be counted.
- If you choose an absentee ballot, be sure to mail it soon after you receive it, giving the County Clerk's office plenty of time to process it and to count your vote on Election Day. You may also drop off your ballot in person at the County Clerk's office. Note that Arkansas election law does not provide for ballot drop boxes about which we've read elsewhere in the country.
- Ask your friends and family, including particularly your young adult children, about their plan to vote! Having a conversation about whether and how to vote need not entail a discussion about preferred candidates.
- Join our congregation's gathering via Zoom with Terri Hollingsworth, Pulaski County Clerk, Monday, October 5, at 7pm, via Zoom. Hollingsworth will discuss the three ways to vote this year and will answer your questions.
- Execute your plan! Vote! Having made your plan, make sure that you vote!
- Let us know that you voted! If you use social media, post a photo of yourself with the hash tag #BnaiIsraelVotes. If you're not on social media, or you don't want to post, send me the photo, or just a note to tell me that you voted, bblock@bnai-israel.us. The photo, if you have voted in person, might be a "selfie" with your "I voted!" sticker. Or maybe you'll take a photo of yourself sealing your mail-in ballot, dropping it off at the Clerk's office, or dropping it into the mailbox.
- Be proud that Congregation B'nai Israel is opening its doors to Election Day voting! Our congregation is the grateful beneficiary of the Payroll Protection Plan. When asked if we would permit our building to be used as a polling place, our Executive Committee and Eileen Hamilton asked a lot of good, tough questions, and ultimately decided that our sacred and civic duty would be to make the Temple available as always. We typically deep-clean our building before the High Holy days, which we have delayed to the day after Election Day this year. Therefore, our office will be closed November 3 and 4.

Please join me, celebrating American democracy and the long American Jewish tradition of civic engagement by casting your ballot for your chosen candidates on or before November 3!

Faithfully,

Rabbi Barry H. Block

FROM THE PRESIDENT, AMANDA O. FERGUSON

Dear Friends,

By the time you read this, we will be close to the end of the High Holidays. I hope with all of my heart that everyone enjoyed and felt comforted by our streaming High Holiday services.

Seeing so many participants sharing it virtually with all of you has been a wonderful experience for me. And one that will go down in history (or at least be documented in our archives).

There are so many folks to thank for the production of our High Holiday Streaming Experience. First and foremost, Richard Estelita and Jeff Nodelman. Richard and Jeff have spent countless hours filming and editing, often working late into the evening, to provide us with beautiful streaming High Holiday services. They selflessly gave their time away from their families and put their hearts into their work. Thank you, Richard and Jeff.

Our musicians have also been hard at work, finding new and safer ways to sing together while remaining apart. Thanks to our volunteer Cantorial Soloist, Richard Estelita; to our fabulous Temple musicians—David Bauman, Liz Cohen, Jana Cohen, and Charlie Friedman; The MazelTonic—Meg Marion and Josiah Wheeler, alongside Richard and Liz—, as well as the Shechinotes, for providing us with beautiful music in what I know was a whole new format for everyone. Your music enhances our worship experience and is one of my favorite parts about our Temple. The time and energy you put in every year, and the extra time and energy you put in this year, are much appreciated.

Thanks to Tim Kessler who also helped with streaming and was able to help us troubleshoot throughout the process. Tim is our IT guru! Thanks, too, to Doris Krain, for generously providing and organizing hundreds of her magnificent photographs to make us all feel as if we were surrounded by our fellow congregants even while streaming from home.

Thank you to Jane and Scott Levine for organizing and running our Shofar Drive Through theater, and to Rita Fagan and the countless bakers who made delicious treats for putting together the wonderful goody bags given out at that service. Thank you to Merrick Fagan and William Cohen for providing us with the sounds of the Shofar as well. Thank you to Laurie Arnold and Cheryl Streiff, who planned our meaningful Tashlich event. These two chances to see our fellow congregants in person, even at a distance, helped us provide the sense of community that so many of you have told us you are lacking during the pandemic.

So many of you recorded your service parts at home and sent them in to be included with the holiday services. It was so wonderful to see everyone, speaking from their own homes yet bringing us all together. Thank you to every person who took the time to do this. I know being in front of the camera is not a favorite for a lot of folks, but you were all brave and your participation greatly enhanced our worship experience.

A very special thank you goes to the Ottenheimer Brothers Foundation, for seeing our need and our vision and providing us with the funds to make it happen. Not only were we able to record and stream our beautiful High Holiday services due to their generosity, we will enjoy enhanced sound quality in the Sanctuary and be able to continue to stream with high quality sound and video in the future, even when we are able to hold in person services again. We are truly grateful to the Ottenheimer Brothers Foundation for making this possible.

I would be remiss if I didn't thank our staff, Eileen Hamilton, Keila Patton, and Milton Boyd. They have kept our Temple office going, taken reservations for all events, kept us informed through weekly eblasts, and been there to answer questions and help along the way. The hours they put in and their dedication to making things run smoothly is commendable and appreciated.

On top of all of that, Eileen has managed to open online Religious School with near perfect attendance in the first few weeks!! The extraordinary registration, attendance and participation levels are testament to Eileen's creativity in planning to deliver Jewish education under unprecedented circumstances and the confidence she has built among Religious School families. I know Eileen joins me in thanking the parents and students for being so enthusiastic about our new normal way of doing things. Eileen has told me that seeing your smiling kids is her favorite part of the week!

I would like to thank Rabbi Block. His vision, hard work, and trust in our lay leaders and volunteers have been instrumental in making the High Holidays happen. When the Board of Trustees made the decision to go all virtual this year, he didn't blink. He simply moved forward. He helped coordinate volunteers, wrote cue sheets and run throughs, and was there every step of the way. The constant refrain from Rabbi Block was "we need to make sure everyone feels included." Rabbi Block ran High Holiday input sessions over the summer to hear what you wanted to see, and he made sure we included those things in our streaming experience. I am grateful to have a Rabbi whose first and foremost concern is the well-being of our congregants, and their connection to our community.

Finally, I would like to thank you, our congregants. So many of you have reached out asking how you can help, or to thank us for the work happening at Temple. You have volunteered your time, attended adult learning programs, tuned in for zoom services, made sure your children participated in Religious School, attended in person events like Tashlich and the Shofar Drive in, or joined us for our streamed services and events. Thank you all for being a part of this Kehilah Kedosha, holy Community. I wouldn't want to be anywhere else.

Shalom,
Amanda

FROM THE EDUCATOR, EILEEN HAMILTON

Hakarat HaTov— translated as gratitude, gratefulness, and thankfulness has cropped up more and more in Jewish learning. We teach about it, try to emulate it, discuss the value and ethical nature of gratitude. Having gratitude is never underestimated – expressing thanks can never lead you in the wrong direction. So, I need to express my deepest gratitude to the students and parents of B'nai Israel Religious School. You know who you are....

We entered a very difficult season of religious school registration. To Zoom or not to Zoom. We opened registration with a plan, the same tuition scale for school, and Zoom links. And you registered. You showed up on screen, picked up materials as needed, and have supported the efforts of our teachers as they too navigated new waters. Each week when I sign on to class, I am amazed and humbled on how each of our students is ready and waiting to join in on what the teachers have prepared and have to offer. The kids participate, smile, sing and play along. It is such a pleasure seeing and hearing the parents in the background, knowing they are there for support, and knowing that Jewish education means so much for this community.

Soon we will begin to introduce a little more and thankfully, the larger community of Jewish professionals are planning too. We instituted a new Hebrew in Harmony program with Jewish superstars Noah Aronson and Eliana Light. They make learning Hebrew amazing, interesting, and pleasant to listen to. We were led in Shabbat with Rick Recht in August, and soon Shira Kline will lead us into an exciting Simchat Torah celebration on October 9. We will be ready with our Torah kits and completed projects in hand. Shira and Rick have also collaborated on a new Shana Shel Shira (a year of song) series that we were fortunate enough to acquire thanks to the generosity of the Storthz Fund, we will see much more of Shira and Rick this year. And, later in October, we will once again hear from Noah Aronson, Jewish musician extraordinaire as he leads us in Shabbat worship. Indeed, B'nai Israel is very fortunate due to the many wonderful funds such as Storthz Fund and Bauman Family Music Fund who treat us to these enriching opportunities.

Perhaps Thank You is not enough. But it's a great place to start.

- A portion or all of an IRA or 401k
- A portion or all of an annuity
- A portion or all of a charitable trust
- Or some other deferred commitment
